However, we kindly ask you use the NHS App and scan your phone on the QR code in church or confirm to a Steward your attendance by giving your name and contact number.

You must sanitize your hands before entering church and wear a mask.

Parliament in the Parish

Pope Francis tells us that this moment of extraordinary turmoil is the time to rethink the future of our common home. In response to this message Cafod are inviting Catholics to organise a virtual meeting with their local MP, to discuss how to rebuild from the pandemic in a way that tackles the major global issues of our time, including climate change and unjust foreign debts. Ruth Edwards has agreed to join us in a zoom meeting on Thursday 15th July at 4pm. Fr. Michael will be attending and would like parishioners to join in to let Ruth know about your concerns and learn more about her work in tackling global poverty, injustice and the climate crisis.

Please let me know if you would like to attend and if you have any particular questions that you would like to ask Ruth Edwards, if you have a question but do not want to ask it yourself I will be happy to put it forward on your behalf. elizabeth.bonner1@virginmedia.com

Anne Killingworth a teacher at St Edmund Campion school is retiring at the end of this year. She has been a teacher at St Edmund Campion since Jan 1984. I know that many of the parishioners would know Anne as a teacher for themselves or their children. It is hard to think of the school without her. We will miss her more than we realise. We are having a collection at school and if any past pupils would like to contribute, they could send donations to school office. We would also like to collate messages from past parents and pupils too. if any have a memory that they would like to share they could be sent to the school office email:

office@st-edmundcampion.notts.sch.uk

We can then put them together in a memory book. Thank you.

(Head Teacher of St Edmund Campion School)

The Common Good and the Family - 13th July from 6.30pm - 8pm ~ Event 2

The focus of much of social and economic policy and rights-based rhetoric is the individual. However, we all grow up in and belong in families. That is so, even if families come in all shapes and sizes and are sometimes fragile and face immense challenges. But there is evidence that the focus on the individual can create conditions that weaken family life. It is the family in which we are formed, it is where we learn to share resources, reconcile collective goals with our unique individuality, grow up and then assist the older generation, returning the love and service we received as children. The family is the fundamental unit of socialisation and the foundation upon which the common good is built. Drawing on the first event and acting as a precursor to the two subsequent events in the series, the panel will consider what needs to happen in civil society and public policy to create the conditions in which the family can fulfil its critical role.
